Candidates for Nomination.

There is considerable interest among the public in the county as to the results of the election. The following is the situation of affairs:

For Governor from the Eastern part of the county, Walter Perreault of Rum-ford and Charles Gilbert of Canton are the candidates with the chances in favor of the former. There will be no candidates from the west, one of which is J.

L. Fink, esp. of Brunswick.

For Sheriff, J. W. Chadbourne of Oxford, C. M. Wornall of Bethel and J. W.

Dorset of Southport are candidates.

For Coroner, S. S. Stearns, esp. of Norway, W. H. Hester, esp. of Buckland and E. C. Walker, esp. of Harvard are the candidates. The race appears to be between the former and the latter. The friends of the latter are the majority of the voters.

The majority of the voters are doing some planting and in some cases the work has been done on the highway.

Most of the land that remains unworked has been left by reason of its being too wet.

Alonso felt has a very nice Holstein bull 14 months old and weighs 1000 lbs.

Charles A. Brooks, who lives near the foot of Bryant's Pond, while at work in his field last Friday saw a female deer freely walking about in the woods. Mr.

Brooks called his family out to see it. When his dog discovered it and gave the alarm, the deer jumped into the lake and made for the pond. On reaching the water she plunged boldly in and the deer followed in a moment.

Swimming and barking. The outcry soon drew a number of spectators to the shore to watch the exciting scene. For a time it seemed that the deer was gaining ground when near the middle of the pond the dog caught her and a sharp struggle ensued in the water. Mr.

EAST STONESTON.

As I have not seen any report of the G.

A. H. Yule in your paper will give a sketch of it. It was held by Geo. F. Lepper and Almon Richardson. Camp

Sons of Veterans. Considering the season of the year was not as favorable as could have been desired and a brief a-time was given to make suitable preparation, yet it was as successful as could understandings have been expected.

The existence of the Belle Corps was called in requisition and although only a part of the Corps were able to be present all those who were able to devised valuable aid. The Fair commenced on the 28th of April and continued four days. The first evening was devoted to the following exercises:—A fine oration by Lawyer Stearns of Norway, to which followed music, both vocal and instrumental, and a stump speech by Addison Holt, which caused much laughter. The second evening, a drama entitled "Never" was played. Some of the characters excelling in their parts, especially the generous and humorous character of the traveller. The drama was devoted to dancing for all who delight in that amusement.

The last afternoon to awarding of prizes and sale of various articles and disappointment of many a hopeful heart. The patronage was excellent. For the best candidate C. F. Small, who presented it to the three societies occupying the first place, Cashmere, for the best essay on three presiding officers. Mr. Small was highly applauded, his many courtesy deserving. The last evening was devoted to music, singing and the acting of a farce. The farce was entitled "The Farce" and was acted by the same characters who acted in the first evening. The drama was well received and the audience was very large.

The drama entitled "The Virginia Veteran" was well received and was very pleasant and instructive one. Doubtless the life-like to those who witnessed the drama. The drama was well received and the audience was very large.

On the evening of the 28th last, Camp

A. Richardson, No. 36, Sons of Veterans held their anniversary entertainment. A much larger company was present than was expected, the hall being filled. The drama entitled "The Virginia Veteran"

Mr. Hiram Staples, an aged lady confined to her bed for many months by paralysis, was found last Saturday with small place of rope tied to the bed post by one end and the other around her neck. She had tied the rope all right and thrown herself from the bed. They ran for her husband but when he went in she was dead. The rope had been used to tie her pillows to keep them in place. She had been heard to say she should be obliged to lay there on her bed as long as life remained.

Calvin Davis is falling.

A. P. Wood's physician thinks Alford's chances for recovery quite doubtful.

As L. G. Perry is busy on his farm, his wife is seen every morning exercising the
